

Complete Laundry Management Services
Specialising in providing Laundry Systems and Garments for Food and Manufacturing Industries.

Gem Uniform Services is a Garment Management and Laundry Business with 35 years experience in providing fully managed laundry systems.

Gem Uniform Services have the experience and expertise to exceed the level of service, cleanliness and presentation required in laundry management, achieving the high standards set by Government and Industry regulations.

Vision and Values

Gem Uniform Services main objective is to ensure flexible and personal laundry management, providing efficient and effective systems to meet client requirements.

- Personalised Service from a Family Owned Business
- Excellent Communication
- Safe and Sustainable Laundry Practices
- Efficient Service to Companies of all sizes
- Focused on Food Industry and Manufacturing.

Gem Uniform Services is one of the few laundries in Australia able to launder and return garments within 48 hours.

Gem Uniform Services will develop a system to suit your staff's clothing needs.

Flexibility allows Gem Uniform Services to maintain a reliable delivery schedule and be responsive to any change in customer requirements.

Building Strong and Reliable Relationships

Gem Uniform Services is a family owned, industrial laundry based in Bendigo.

The company has been in operation for over 35 years, with the Ford family owning and managing Gem Uniform Services for the past 25 years.

David Ford has established strong relationships with various food industry companies, providing reliable and efficient service during that time.

Gem Uniform Services currently provide Laundry Management Services to many large National and International companies.

These companies rely on the personal management and scheduled delivery of garments by outsourcing their laundry requirements to Gem Uniform Services.

Scheduled Laundry Systems

A Garment Delivery Manager (GDM) will be assigned to personally oversee your uniform stock, and arrange scheduled deliveries to suit your requirements.

Gem's Garment Delivery Manager will be responsible for the day-to-day uniform stock inventory, and will be on-site regularly to adjust or add items when needed.

We believe that a quick and flexible turn around of garments creates a more reliable service.

This system also means that the majority of the stock is on your site ready to be worn by your employees, not in transit or processing.

Gem Uniform Services also washes, dries and processes each customers garments separately, which allows flexibility to reschedule processing and deliveries.

Gem Uniform Services can provide daily delivery of garments and clothing for your business.

Professional, Safe Laundry Management

Gem Uniform Services certifications ensure quality management of your operational clothing and garments.

Working with Ecolab Laundry Systems Chemicals, Gem Uniform Services will create unique wash cycles to match each client's specific requirements.

Regular clothing 'culture tests' are undertaken, ensuring Gem Uniform Services meets Australian Standard 4146 for Laundry Practice.

HACCP Accreditation for Laundering Systems is also achieved, placing sanitisation, health and safety as top priorities.

Efficient Garment Top-ups

Gem Uniform Services understand you may need extra garments promptly.

Our systems ensure minimal waiting time for 'top-ups' to be prepared and delivered.

We store client clothing on-site, so you can order replacements or increase the number of uniforms required for your staff and production teams.
